

MessageGears + RudderStack Strategic Partnership

We Share A Warehouse-First Approach

Connect To Your Live Data Where It Lives, Export Audiences Anywhere

MessageGears and RudderStack partner together to help brands convert their modern data warehouse into a CDP in real-time for best of breed marketing.

RudderStack's Event Streams pipeline captures digital events from web and mobile apps, then transforms and streams them back to your data warehouse in real-time.

In MessageGears Segment, data is used for customer journeys and activations through native channels or MessageGears Message ESP via email, push, and SMS.
